regotiations are under way between officials of the Guif and Standard Oil interests. Whether there is any foundation for these reports probably will not be known for several weeks or months, because it requires an immense amount of labor to work out deals of such a combination.

Advance in Tubular

Goods Expected Soon

Reports are current that an advance in the price of tubular goods is imminent and that the advance likewise probably will involve other iron and steel products used in the oil industry.

It has not been so long since the steel industry looked upon the Mexia development as its salvation. Few orders had been going on the books of the steel companies and all the sudden the oil operators begans acramble for steel and the Mexia development became an important factor in the steel situation. Now, towever, the demand for structural as well as oil field steel and iron has become insistent and the result of an increasing demand always is an advancing of prices.

Steel derricks were in such demand last week that builders of these derricks were unable to supply the demand. One company had last week that builders of these derricks were unable to supply the demand. One company had last week that builders of these derricks were unable to supply the demand. A representative of one of the steel derrick concerns who last summer was convassing almost hopelessly for business said that his concern was oversold to such an extent that no effort was made to get any share of the business of the company that was needing upward of 60 derricks—and reeding them in a hurry.

Turkey Mountain in the Limelight Again

The Giadys Belle Oil company has a hig producer in No. 3 Turkey Mountain lease, and located in the southwast of 1-18-12, which got the pay sand yesterday at 2.098 feet, and at facet in flowed 135 barrels of crude into the lines since noon-Saturday. The well is today flowing 67 barrels per hour actual gauge.
